newspapers announced that the agent referred to wanted proposals from manufacturers at Patterson for fifty locomotives for his government. About the same time the market reports had it that fifty tons of buffalo hair had been sold to make coarse army blankets, as supposed, for Turkey. Meanwhile the bogus agent was busy in Philadelphia, where he invited proposals for 200,000 pairs of army shoes and 100,000 sabre bayonets, also tents, knapsacks and other military stores. As part of the dodge the party went around in New York army shipping houses to charter a steamer for Constantinople, and some persons were so far imposed upon as to go to much trouble on his account. At last suspicion became aroused when the so called agent attempted without success to borrow a hundred dollars from a bayonet man in Philadelphia. Moreover it was remarked by others in trade that his blankets could not be made in competition with the wool felt blankets used by the Turkish army, which are the cheapest known. The Turkish minister at Washington, also the Turkish consul and others know nothing of the agent, and pronounced him an unmitigated fraud.

Mourning Her Rescuer.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The funeral of Louis Montant, of the dry goods house of Townsend, Montant & Co., took place to-day. Among the mourners at the mass of requiem, was Miss Edith May, whom Montant rescued from the cabin of the capsized yacht Mohawk, when Mr. and Mrs. Garner and others were drowned.

A Consul's Death.

NEW YORK, April 7.—News has been received of the death of Phillip Clayton, U. S. consul at Callao, Peru.

The Brotherhood of Engineers.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—The Reading railroad company has suspended all brotherhood engineers employed upon the Germantown and Norristown branch to day. They are to have two days time in which to decide upon remaining in the employ of the company at the cost of leaving the brotherhood.

This evening a large meeting of the brotherhood was held, at which delegates were present from more than a dozen railroads of the United States and Canada. To-night other

WASHINGTON CITY.

Proposals for Carrying Mails.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The postoffice department has prepared advertisements inviting proposals for mail service on about 600 routes in all parts of the country, for terms ranging from one to four years from the 1st of next September; bids to be received until June 9th and awards made by June 20th.

The Extra Session.

The President has given no intimation as to when he will issue the proclamation convening Congress.

The Next House.

The World's Washington special says the roll call of the next House indicates a Democratic majority of about 12.

Hayes on Free Schools.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—In reply to the address of Friends yesterday, President Hayes says he acknowledged the importance of general education, and that he appreciated the difficulties in the way of establishing a general school system where none existed. It should be a State institution, but the general government should render all the aid it could legally. Nothing gave him more pleasure than to contribute as far as in his power to further and elevate the blessing of education. In the South there was the loss of school funds and a general derangement of finances. He believed there was no greater guarantee for the advancement and preservation of the country than the intelligence of her people. The subject would receive his attention.

Unfounded Charge.

A telegram from the Consul General of the United States at Shanghai states that the published allegations against Minister Seward are unfounded.

Economy Enjoined.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Attorney-General in a circular letter to the United States district attorneys says: The appropriation for the expenses of United States courts for the fiscal year is nearly exhausted. Congress refused to appropriate these expenses and hence the strictest economy is necessary on the part of U. S. attorneys.

District attorney Wells to-day, with the approval of the Attorney-General, appointed Gen. Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut, to assist in the prosecution of the whisky cases in the Missouri district.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular to collectors of internal revenue, in relation to the drawback on grape brandy exported after payment of tax, or concerning transfers which may be ordered by the internal revenue bureau in consequence of liability to loss or great wastage, and concerning the discontinuance of special bonded warehouses. The existing regulations relative to whisky are incorporated, so far as applicable, into the regulations authorized and required by the act under consideration.

Senator Sargent has recommended that a bonded warehouse, under this act, be established at San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton, Marysville, Napa, San Jose and Los Angeles to begin with. As there will be expenses for store-keepers and rent it is important at the outset to keep down the number as much as possible.

LOUISIANA.

The Commission Organized.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—The visits of the commission to Nicholls and Packard were entirely informal. Nothing of importance transpired as to the interview with Nicholls but it is understood he claims his authority is undisputed anywhere in the State outside of the State House. The commission organized by electing Judge Lawrence chairman and Gen. Hawley secretary. The latter says that in to-day's interview both Packard and Nicholls make claims as to the extent of their authority and recognition by citizens of the State as they have heretofore in publications by them.

Joint committee from the Democratic legislature waited upon the Presidential commission this morning at the St. Charles. The interview lasted two hours. It was secret. The commission propounded numerous quest ons as to the state of affairs. The committee then made detailed verbal statements of the status of the government giving the number of parishes and officials that acknowledged the Nicholls government. They will hereafter present documentary facts to the commission early next week.

When the Democratic committee retired, Packard's supreme court judges were admitted to the parlor and began their argument.

Chief Justice Ludeling, Associate Justices King and Leonard, of Kellogg's Supreme Court, had a lengthy interview with the Commission and laid before them an elaborate

ATLANTIC CABLE.

The German Chancellorship.

LONDON, April 6.—A Berlin correspondent says: Any provisional arrangement such as the appointment of Camphausen Hoffmany as representative of the chancellor in his several functions would be greatly objected to. Therefore, it is very probable that the Liberals will refuse to assent to such a proposal. They will demand they will demand the appointment of a responsible Republican to the chancellorship. National Liberals profess that they personally desire and confidently hope that Bismarck's retirement will be only temporary. They declare, however, that they will oppose energetically the creation of a provisional government. The opinion begins to prevail that Bismarck will after all be satisfied with a furlough of several months. The affair is not remarked as seriously as it was at first. It is rumored that Camphausen will become vice chancellor, Bismarck remaining chancellor, but not interfering in affairs unless his advice is requested. Camphausen is expected to follow Bismarck's policy as regards the State's purchase of railways, etc., and which project has apparently totally failed.

Financial.

LONDON, April 6.—The bank of France has reduced its discount rate from 3 to 2 per cent. The Financier says the reduction is likely to stimulate the investment of French savings in public securities while in its relation to England it seems to mark the conclusion of that prolonged pressure upon the gold stores and gold currents of the world, whereby metallic stock in the bank of France has been gradually raised to an unparalelled total.

The Ocean Cable Cos.

LONDON, April 6.—The Direct U. S. Cable to-day adopted a report in favor of a friendly alliance with the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, when the directors resigned and a new board was chosen.

Pedestrianism.

LONDON, April 7.—At 12:50 last Monday morning O'Leary and Weston began their walk of six days or $5,000 a side at Agricultural hall, Islington. At 2:50 this afternoon O'Leary had completed 500 miles. Weston

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—California declares a dividend of two dollars, payable on the 13th instant.

Assessments Levied.

Assessments of $1 have been levied by Gould and Curry and Julia; 50 cents by Hale and Norcross.

An assessment of $5 has been levied by Overman and another of $2 by Bullion, which accounts for the big drop in these stocks to-day.

It is reported that strong opposition is forming among leading citizens to defeat the election of a certain member of the Stock Board who aspires to Congress.

A Riot which Nearly Produced a Riot.

Something approaching a mild type of broad riot occurred this morning, occasioned by the following advertisement which appeared in several morning papers:

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 9, 1877.

ECHOES OF LONG AGO.

Taking its stand on the "resolutions of '98," which a great many Democratic politicians have always considered higher authority than constitution and laws, the Standard allows its indignation to exhale against an observation made by the OREGONIAN, to the effect that Washington held that under the Constitution we are a nation, not a league; and it wants to know if calumny can go further than to assert that Washington was a "centralist," and "regarded this as a consolidated nation?" It is enough to say that Washington did not accept the doctrines of the "resolutions of '98," but expressly repudiated them; that in his letter to Congress transmitting the proceedings of the convention that framed the Constitution, of which body he was president, he said that in all their deliberations they had "kept steadily in view the consolidation of the union;" that this was the principle on which the "national existence" depended, and that adherence to it was the only security for the country. The words "national," "consolidation," and the like, so odious to the Standard, are Washington's own.

By the "resolutions of '98" was started the doctrine that our government is but a league, or compact, between the States. Jefferson, who was organizing a party in opposition to the party of Washington, Adams and Hamilton, wrote the resolutions, but with the "prudence" for which he was always noted in matters of this kind he concealed the authorship, which never became known till after his death. Shortly after the resolutions had been adopted by the legislatures of Kentucky and Virginia, Washington wrote a letter to Patrick Henry in which the destructive and unnational policy set forth in the new party movement was denounced, and gratification expressed that the resolutions had not been countenanced by legislative action anywhere outside of Kentucky and Virginia. But after many years the resolutions were revived by the Southern States generally and set above the Constitution in order to justify the policy of secession which the South had determined to pursue. The refusal of the Standard to give them up means, of course, that it will not admit the finality of the confederate defeat in the civil war. For the war grew directly out of the controversy over the question whether our government is a nation or a league, which was raised by these resolutions. Slavery was the incident which gave the occasion, the instrument used to unite the Southern people in support of the seceders' theory of government; but the logic by which the movement was justified and supported was found in the Standard's favorite "resolutions of '98," which assert the "State compact" doctrine against the national idea.

These things were once so familiar that no one could have supposed that it ever would be necessary to restate them. Who could have imagined, when the war closed, that a few years the political heresies that produced it would still be proclaimed as embodying the true principles on which the government is founded? Happily, there are few left to avow it; and although now and then voices from the hollow sepulchres of the past may be heard to squeak and gibber as ghosts of the rejected dead, yet it will not be just to charge that the whole of the great party for which the Standard seems to speak is resolved to take up this cry from the tombs as the watchword of party action, and endeavor to revive and maintain the proposition that the great war settled nothing, and that after all we have not a nation, yet only a league of States.

SENATOR GROVER.

It is said that the petition from Oregon against Senator Grover contain the signatures of eleven hundred persons. We are unable to state precisely what the allegations are, but from the contents of the papers would appear to refer chiefly to the manner of his election as Senator. The committee of three appointed to visit Oregon to take testimony is required to be in readiness to report by December next. It is hardly probable that the investigation with reference to the electoral vote of Oregon, and the crookedness connected with the "Gobble" dispatch will be a subject of inquiry before the committee, since these are matters that could scarcely fall within the scope of such investigation. But still, as regards the "Gobble" dispatch, there is a very pardonable curiosity to know how the person who sent it could have foretold so clearly and with such accuracy of detail what the Governor would do; and this desire for information is greatly heightened by the Governor's disclaimer, under oath, of all knowledge of the dispatch or its contents. As to the charges against him with respect to his election, it is greatly to be desired that since matters have come so far a full investigation shall be had. The people of Oregon want to know on what grounds charges so grave respecting the character of one who has borne and still bears the honors of the State, are laid. They have a right to know whether these are calumnies, whose authors deserve hanging, suggestion, or facts, which would bring rain if proved. Senator Grover is now fully at issue with the authors of the charges. We shall hope to see him vindicate himself. Only those whose actions are controlled by personal feelings or warped by a partisanship superior to a regard for justice, or to considerations for the reputation of a public man and of a constituency whose reputation in such a matter is involved with his, will insist on the truth of such charges in the absence of proof that would establish them. It is said the inquiry will take a wide range. It cannot go too far. Senator Grover and his friends claim to be able to meet the accusation. He is to be informed of the times and places of the committee's meetings, and has the right to call witnesses. Hints of retaliatory measures of some sort against the movers of the proceedings have been thrown out, but there is no information as to what this may signify.

Eastern papers publish the list of seats to be contested in the House of Representatives of the 44th Congress. Among them appears the name of Lemuel McDowell, who contests the seat of Richard Williams. For the information of those who do not possess the inestimable advantage of knowing who Mr. McDowell is, it may be stated that he is supposed to be a citizen of Oregon and the man who received one vote (we think in Marion county) for member of Congress. Possibly he thinks he has as good a right to claim to be Oregon's representative in Congress as Mr. Cronin had to be the State's electoral college.

The signs for Packard as well as for Chamberlain are portentous of failure. Neither can support his authority without the constant interposition of the national government. The scenes in New Orleans on Saturday were suggestive and ominous. It is not possible to see how there can be any result other than that to which all recent events most surely tend. In one respect Packard is more unfortunate than Chamberlain, in that he has foes in his own political party. The Pinchback influence is quite strong, and is as implacable towards Packard as the Nicholls party can be.

Jefferson Davis has been at work for a long time on his memoirs, which will be published during the present year. It is said there will be two large volumes. Much information it is supposed will be furnished respecting the inner history of the war from a Confederate stand-point. But the appearance of the memoirs will surely be followed by fierce literary controversies among the men of the South who were principal actors in the war. Many of these hold grudges against the Confederate chief, and they will be sure to think that he has not done them justice in his book.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

BURGLARIES.—Some time during Saturday night the St. Louis Exchange saloon was burglarized. An entrance was effected by the side or thieves through the rear end of the saloon. The burglar attempted to open the safe, but not being able to accomplish that, he bored several holes through the side and split off a piece, which enabled him to insert his hand. However, he found to his disappointment, that not a cent had been left in the till, except a "water head." Taking a bottle of brandy and a glass, a bottle of Martell's brandy and a decanter, a bottle of Martell's brandy and a small tumbler, the thief decamped. Yesterday a fellow was arrested in a state of beastly intoxication and taken to the city jail. He was too drunk to give his name and was locked up. On searching his person, a bottle of brandy was found, also an auger and a knife. The proprietor of the saloon, believes the knife of the fellow's arrest, states that the tumbler had a small chip broken out at the edge. On examining the glass it was found to correspond in every respect with the one stolen. It was also ascertained, on examination, that the auger found in his pocket would fit the holes bored through the counter. The circumstantial evidence against the prisoner seems quite conclusive.

STEAMER AJAX.—The steamer Ajax sailed from San Francisco for Portland last Saturday afternoon with full freight and following list of passengers: Dr. J. W. Watts, Mrs. N. Watts and 2 children, A. Alice, R. D. Rice, C. B. Dorsey, C. Berthan, S. Rosenblatt, Lay Ackerly, L. M. Fay and wife, S. Wightman, F. Wightman, W. F. Abbott, T. A. Finell, P. T. Dobbins, Col. A. R. Eddy, U. S. A., Rev. J. FIRE ALARM.—About 8 o'clock last evening a fire alarm was sounded, which was promptly responded to by the department. Only one stroke was sounded by the big bell, and the cause of the alarm was soon made apparent. Late in the afternoon the steam engine, which was used several years ago in excavating at the big cut beyond the city was brought down on a platform car. One of the cars which projected some distance above the machine, caught on the wire which is stretched across Fourth street at Morrison, alongside the hill, and in its progress it broke this wire, and in so doing it struck one which gave the alarm.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING.—In pursuance of the requirements of the school law, there will be an annual meeting this (Monday) evening at Central school building at 7:30 o'clock. Also for the purpose of levying a tax to build a new school building, and for such purposes required and for the transaction of any other business deemed necessary.

We learn that the Warm Springs Indian Agency, which has hitherto been under the care of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has been turned over by the President to the United Presbyterian Church. This is proper, as Capt. John Smith, who has been the popular and efficient agent for so many years, is a member of that church.

Last evening a very entertaining and instructive concert of religious exercises was given by the East Portland M. E. Sabbath School, C. Hanson, Superintendent. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. F. Heroy. Among the pleasant exercises we noted as of special interest, the following: "Faith, Hope and Charity," a recitation by Misses S. The singing, Mrs. Victoria Boeschen at the organ, was excellent. Mrs. Hettie Quivey, Miss Josephine Wikdal, Maud Carney and Anna Cason taking parts. The closing address by Hon. J. F. Caples, was pleasing, instructive and impressive, dwelling upon the advance of civilization, temperance and Christianity throughout the world. A very large congregation was present and the exercises throughout were unusually successful.

AMUSEMENTS.

"JOHN GARTH."—John Brougham's beautiful five act comedy, of "John Garth," constituted the opening piece of the brief dramatic season inaugurated at New Market by Mr. Jack, Saturday afternoon. There was an attendance a fair audience composed mainly of ladies and little folks. Mr. Jack personated the title role in a very excellent manner. His characterization of "John Garth" was distinguished for its strict and conscientious adherence to the dramatic requirements of the plot, as well as a faithful portraiture of the dramatist's conception. He seemed at times the living and moving embodiment of honor, integrity and truth, coupled with a species of knightly, condescension and inflexible pride, which invested the character of this "lone and solitary being," with much that could be admired and respected. He was efficiently supported by Miss Annie Firmin, as "Hester Deerham," who, during the three first acts is made to appear constantly in the unenviable light of a crafty, heartless schemer, but who in the end is discovered to be the noblest and best of her sex. During the performance both in the afternoon and evening, Miss Firmin rendered the ballad, "Down By the River Side," very sweetly, and won each time a hearty encore. As "Gregory Deerham," the solicitor, Mr. Gordon acquitted himself quite creditably. Miss Katie Firmin played "Minnie Garth" very clever. She looked as pretty as a pink, but a little more dramatic intensity and feeling, and less stiffness and formality would add greatly to the effect of her personation. Mr. Howard, as "Antonio Berretti," the accepted lover of "Minnie," was very good, but appeared a little out of his line. Playing the lovesick swain and uttering all sorts of silly nonsense is certainly not Mr. Howard's "strong weakness," and no one appears more conscious of his inability to perform the part than himself. He is really a clever actor, careful and painstaking, and generally acquits himself very creditably and to the satisfaction of the audience. "Paulo Berretti," the father of "Antonio," an Italian outcast, was personated by Mr. P. J. Wade (first appearance), and in capital style, too. He made a very favorable impression, and ere the close of the season promises to become a favorite with the public. The minor characters, "Mere Charmarant" and "Maria," were personated respectively by Miss Lottie Wade and Miss Lizzie Ingles. To-night "John Garth" will be repeated for the last time, when we advise all to go and see this beautiful comedy. To-morrow evening Mrs. Woods' great emotional play of "Aurora Floyd," will be presented for the first time in Portland. Byron's great comedy, "Our Boys," which ran nearly 800 nights in London, is in active course of preparation, and will be presented for the first time next Friday evening.

A general movement, directed by the city authorities, is making at Salem for cleaning up the streets and alleys and disinfecting the town generally.

A Card for Rational Readers.

Irrational people always reject good advice, and in nothing is their folly more frequently conspicuous than in ignoring precautions necessary for the retention of health. Forecast, on the other hand, is a notable characteristic of the rational, and it is the exercise of this quality which we would suggest to them. Protect the system against diseases which fasten upon the debilitated, the nervous and the dyspeptic, by bracing the physique, regulating the stomach, bowels and liver, and banishing despondency with the purest and most efficient of botanic invigorants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That these effects follow its use, and that it prevents as well as annihilates intermittent and remittent fevers, are facts established by indisputable evidence. To enjoy the twin blessings of "a sound mind and a sound body" in all their plenitude, try a course of this sterling medicine.

Mechanical Tinkering

Cannot arrest the decomposition of the teeth. Nothing will do this but that pure disinfectant and preservative which, under the name of SOZODONT, has become a staple of the toilet throughout the world.

Veterinary Surgeons all over the country are recommending Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the following troubles in horses: Loss of appetite, roughness of the hair, stoppage of bowels or water, thick water, coughs and colds, swelling of the glands, worms, horse ail; thick wind and heaves.

A friend of ours who is chief clerk in the government dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of so much importance to the soldier and the sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Sensible Advice.

You are asked every day through the columns of newspapers and by your druggist to use something for Dyspepsia and Liver complaint that you know nothing about. You get discouraged spending money with but little success. Now, to give you satisfactory proof that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER will cure you of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, with all its effects, such as sour stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water brash, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c., we ask you to go to your druggist and get a Sample Bottle of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER for 10 cents and try it, or a Regular Size for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Agents, Crane & Brigham, Wholesale Druggists, San Francisco.

The Seattle coal owners claim, according to a recent estimate, about ten million tons of coal in their mines.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

SATURDAY EVENING, April 7, 1877.

Gold in New York, 100¾.

Silver Coin—buying, 94½; selling, 95½.

The imports so far during the season have been very heavy, and as there is now a limited surplus of home products in the country for export, there will necessarily be a considerable draft on the capital in circulation to meet bills contracted abroad as it ever is when the exports fall far below the current imports. From now until harvest, south will be the state of affairs here, but there can now be no doubt that taking the year of which the last quarter has just closed, our State will have a very fair showing to make of the balance of trade.

In the United States generally, during the past two or three years, taking the aggregate of business, we find that our exports are not increasing as a whole, but also relatively to our imports. On this point a financial authority says: "Doubts in relation to the certainty that the balance of trade is already in our favor and destined to be greatly increased have been fully dissipated. Exports during the seven months ending with January 31st, exceeded our imports by $135,000,000. The corresponding months of 1875-6, they were $53,000,000, and during the same months of 1874-5 they were $66,000,000. These facts are suggestive. The only doubt that interferes of actual national prosperity is that the falling off of our imports may possibly have been that hard times and lack of credit abroad may have been among the causes of the change. This, however, we feel confident has not been the case from the second grand indication of national prosperity which is the constantly increasing popularity of our national bonds. The new U. S. 4½ per cent. bonds at home and in foreign markets are being sold at the rate of fully a million dollars a day. These are indications that Uncle Sam's credit is good at home and abroad, and that his sons and daughters could greatly extend their liabilities in foreign lands if they chose, and therefore the present commercial relations with other nations are the result of the ordinary laws of supply and demand.

"Now, if good common sense shall preside, for a few years, over our legislation and the execution of financial matters we may anticipate an era of great prosperity. This common sense must be demonstrated by continuing to encourage the home production of all staples for which we have the soil, climate and the raw material. The millions that have been annually sent abroad for sugars, linen and woolen goods, foreign fruits, liquors, etc., must be spent at home. There shall we cease to be a debtor nation, and our treasury notes and national bonds be more eagerly sought than even for gold and silver.

Affairs in some by questions of our coin has advanced ¾ per cent. This is probably owing to an increase demand which arises from the fact that the canneries on the Columbia are now gathering up this coin to pay off the hands employed by them in the spring's work. There is no news from abroad which would produce any rise.

GENERAL NEWS.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

A Late Candidate Snitched.

CINCINNATI, April 8.—A case of some interest involving the character of Gen. Carey as a Greenback candidate for Vice President, has been decided in the courts. The suit was based on a charge that Carey had taken advantage of the confidence reposed in him by a number of individuals who made investments in Colorado mines, represented by Carey, to be a big bonanza. The court found that Carey had agreed with his associates and partners in the enterprise to buy the mine for their common benefit for $50,000, but he took the money to buy it at their expense and bought it for $22,000, and divided the balance of $28,000 the court decides, must be accounted for by Carey to the subscribers to the fund. The case has been on for several years, and has excited local interest.

Whiskey Crooks.

St. Louis, April 8.—The decision of Secretary Sherman in regard to the disposal of the whiskey condemned in compromises in the whiskey frauds, has created considerable flurry here. The first installment of fifty cents on the dollar, amounting to $1,000,000, is now standing here to the credit of the Government, and eight united judgments, amounting to about $300,000, are now in court. The prospect of condemnation is very slim, as it is only necessary to show that the seizure was made without probable cause, and the Government Attorney here thinks that of the $1,000,000, $10,000 can be realized at once, and the balance in small sums. It will be more than a year before the money can be distributed.

Fatal Explosion.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 8.—James P. Conner, a prominent citizen of Hyde Park, Lackawanna county, was killed together with his wife, at the upper end of the Hyde Park bridge. While driving home from church the bridge sank, and they, with their horse, fell into the canal.

Fire Record.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—The captain of the Philadelphia fire department has furnished reporters from the various papers with a statement showing that there has been no conflagration of any consequence in this city since the 1st of January,
